

Patrick D. Cowden: Topmanager and Entrepreneur in Leadership

Patrick D. Cowden, a German-American, has held leadership positions in international corporations for more than 25 years (Bertelsmann, Cap Gemini, DELL, Deutsche Bank, EMC2, Hitachi). His firm belief: The time is ripe for a new leadership culture "Made in Germany". He is seeking to drive change with his Beyond Leadership initiative.

As an entrepreneur in leadership, Patrick helps corporations implement a new leadership model. A resulting leadership culture which enhances the interaction between people across all levels and turns employees into the key drivers of business performance. Patrick supports corporations and organizations in their quest for a new leadership culture by giving inspiring lectures and in-depth workshops as well as providing support in driving extensive transition processes.
