

Mario Šilar

CSR Professor at Deusto Business School (University of Deusto, Bilbao, Spain) and Senior Researcher at Acton Institute Argentina. In 2009, Mario Šilar was appointed as Administrative Manager of EBEN – European Business Ethics Network. The mission of EBEN is to promote ethics and excellence in businesses, to increase awareness about ethical challenges in the global marketplace and to enable dialogue on the role of business in society. EBEN supports initiatives at cross-European, National and regional levels. National Networks of EBEN are established in Germany, Spain, the UK, the Netherlands, Belgium, France, Italy, Poland, Austria, Finland, Turkey and Greece. There are active groups in over 40 countries with more than 1200 members.

Mario Šilar is graduated from the University Thomas Aquinas (Argentina) and holds a Master in Philosophy University of Navarre (Spain) and a Master in Law & Economics from Paris I Panthéon-Sorbonne (France). He has been visiting scholar at The University of Reading UK and did research in Princeton University (The Witherspoon Institute).

His research interests are related to Theory of Action and Moral Philosophy, the relationship between Philosophy & Economics, Institutions & Development.

Mario is also involved in the project Poverty.Cure (<http://www.povertycure.org/>) an international network of organizations and individuals seeking to ground a common battle against global poverty in a proper understanding of the human person and society. PovertyCure encourage solutions that foster opportunity and unleash the entrepreneurial spirit that already fills the developing world.

Select publications include: Metodología de investigación y técnicas para la elaboración de tesis (2006) and Natural Law, Historical, Systematic and Juridical Approaches (2009). He usually publish articles and short op-eds in the Acton Institute International site: <http://es.acton.org>.